Just to keep you up to date. We have been informed that the Government Printing Office does not plan to print additional copies of the book for their sale program. However, they are moving ahead with placing the book in libraries through the Library Deposit Program.

SUBJECT: A Second Publisher []

1. A second publisher of my book expects to have it in hard-cover in "three to four weeks" and will sell it for $29.50. This publisher is University Publications of America (UPA). Formerly located in Washington on Connecticut Avenue, UPA is now set up in Fredrick, Maryland. The firm, I understand, caters primarily to the university library market.

2. What, if anything, this does to Ballantine's plan to publish the book in paperback in March 1982 I do not know. Conceivably the Ballantine market, the trade or bookstore market, is sufficiently distinct from the UPA market to be unaffected by UPA's decision.
